Why is physical distancing important?

Physical distancing is necessary in certain markets and according to the local government guidelines because the most likely way of catching the virus is by berathing in micro-droplets from another person sneezing, coughing or exhaling.

Example of a "new way of life" in practice: Keep a distance of 2 meters (at least 1 meter) between people.

By ensuring that they is more distance per person and maintaining a physical distance from others where possible, you will reduce the likelihood of exposire to the micro-droplets of others. Consult your market's latest health advice and enter in the physical distance requirment into cell M17 to calculate the maximum capacities for your venues in the chart below.
