

THE LEGEND OF NAVO

For centuries, Navo Island has been revered by the Sanasana Villagers for its sacred role in the survival of their people. Located across the channel from Navo Restaurant, the island was once used as a place of safe retreat during times of war and conflict, where women and children sought shelter in its secret interior caves guarded by warriors.

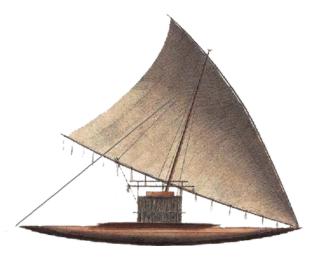

We honor the legend of Navo by showcasing the finest Fijian produce with an authentic Fijian touch, accompanied by old and new world wines, all served by our dedicated Navo team.

Inspired by our surrounding sea and land, and through intensive research for the perfect local ingredients, we strive to deliver a dining experience with a refined touch and technique, while staying true to Fiji's enriching culture through the colors, aromas, and textures.

Supporting the local industry is paramount to the success of InterContinental. The map of the Fijian Islands identifies the areas where we source the ingredients you will find on your plate this evening.

We trust that you will enjoy your dining experience with us.

"MARAU TAKA NA NOMU VAKAYAKAVI"

YOUR NAVO EXPERIENCE

You can expect a unique experience that brings to life the very best of Fijian ingredients and flavours infused with international cooking styles and techniques. As we bring our Fijian experiences to life, please allow us to share with you more information about our menu and table accessories.

The menu offers a selection of delicacies from the 14 provinces of Fiji and a combination of international-grade meats. For example, you can expect fresh vegetables from the nearby Sigatoka Valley, succulent poultry from Vitogo, the finest-grade pork from Vuda, the freshest lobsters from the Yasawa Islands, and the tastiest fish from the Koro Sea. We also have international imports such as beef, salmon, and lamb on offer. The culinary experience aims to delight your senses.

In line with our sustainable efforts to support the local community, we have partnered with "Rise Beyond the Reef", a Fijian non-profit that bridges the divide between remote communities, government and the private sector in the South Pacific, sustainably creating a better world for women and children.

Your table is thoughtfully adorned with decorative pieces all handmade by women and children from rural communities located in the Western interior of Fiji. The place mats are handmade by the women of Vatawai Village, located at the base of Mt. Evans in the province of Ba. The table runners resemble an ibe ni kana or table mat, and these are made by women from within the provinces of Ra and Ba. The table runners and napkins are all handmade, and for some families, the purchase of these products is the single source of income they have coming into their homes.

Local artisans have extended their techniques to crafting especially made mother-of-pearl shells for your side plate, with a knife also made from mother-of-pearl and a handle made from coconut wood.

Your dining experience is brought to life by our exceptional team of waitstaff. Please feel free to let them know if there is anything additional they can do to enhance your dining experience this evening. We have much pleasure in looking after you and are delighted to be of service.

SOUTH SEA SALT

Pristine sea water is sourced from the open Pacific ocean and brought to the South Seas Salt Farm in Fiji.

To ensure optimum purity, the seawater goes through a three stage filtration process before being poured into covered solar evaporation tables or salterns. It takes one to three weeks (depending on the weather) before crystallization naturally occurs. South Seas Salt is harvested by hand before being wrapped in muslin and dried gently in the sun.

Skilled artisan salt makers use age old techniques to ensure South Seas Salt retains the minerals of the sea, tastes delicious and provides the perfect crunch and burst of flavour when sprinkled on food. With a taste that has been described as "straight from the sea". South Seas Salt is bright, clean and gentle in taste and enhances the flavours of foods to perfection.

You are able to purchase South Seas Salt for FJ$30 to take back home. Talk to your wait staff on how to order.
